

Product Data Sheet

CS7002

Overview

---

The CS7002 is a GSM/GPRS reporting module for the Comfort series.

It works as a reporting channel for alarm transmissions and can also be used for remote programming using upload/download over the GSM or GPRS network.

Alarm reporting

Alarm events can be reported to the monitoring station using all supported panel protocols using the audio channel of the GSM or using TCP/IP connection over GPRS to a compatible Osborne Hoffman network receiver.

Alarm events can be reported vocally through the audio channel in combination with a CS535 voice module.

Remote system operation

The CS7002 can be used to provide remote system operation and 2-way audio with the CS534 module.

With the CS7002, installers can also remotely program the panel using the upload-download software.
